COTTON MARKETS

Market Disposed to React Some, But Good Support Given.

Thursday Afternoon, May 29. There was some reactionary feeling prevalent during the day, helped by prevalent during the day, helped by the fact that the holiday period is just ahead and by an uncertainty as to what is going to happen in Paris. The weather may this morning was not favorable, yet in some sections conditions were better and heavy rainfall was by no means general. There was still enough unsettlement in prospect, however, to discourage pressure based on hope of overcoming some of the effects of the continued wet spell. More private crop condition reports also were received, strengthening views that the official document will show a percentage of something near 75 or 76 per cent.

The foreign market was not up to expectations, indicating that he reactionary feeling prevails in Liverpool as well as over here. British consols, the government security, was reported higher with the day, the amount being given as a full point, which caused some speculation as to what information had the market a little and finish were help the market a little and finish were help the market a little and finish were help the market a little sold in the second of the points of the points

MARKET HOLIDAYS.

Friday, May 30, will be observed as a holiday by all the American apeculative markets, with the exception of the New Orleans Cotton exchange. The latter, however, will be closed Saturday. The New York stock and cotton markets will also remain closed Saturday, but the Chicago board of trade will be open on that day.

On Tuesday, June 2, in observance of Confederate Memorial day, the cotton markets will be closed. Banks will be closed Friday and again on Tuesday.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, May 29.—Good ca-bles and wet weather in the belt caused a rise of 5 to 23 points in the price of cotton around the opening today on the more active months, but liquidation set in and a reaction ensued. At the end of the first half hour of business the rise was replaced by a decline of 7 to 25 points under the close of yes-terday.

The evening up operations on the long side gradually became the dominating factor in the day's trading. Toward noon prices were 60 to 63 points under the close of yesterday.

Reports of much rain falling in the belt gave the market a botter tone and caused a full recovery. At 1 o'clock prices were 2 to 12 points under the final quotations of yesterday.

PROPOSE INCREASE IN COTTON COMMISSIONS

NEW YORK, May 29.—Increases in rates of commissions for cotton sold on the New York cotton exchange were approved today by the board of managers and the members will vote on the amendment June 9.

Under the new plan a commission of $10 would be charged for each 109 bales sold at less than 13.01 cents a pound, when the transaction is made for any person other than an exchange member; $12.50 per hundred bales when price ranges from 13.01 to 25 cents a pound, and an additional $2.50 for each hundred bales for each range of five cents a pound above 25 cents a pound. Rates of exchange to members would be half of those charged to nonmembers. Nonmembers residing outside of the United States and Canada would be charged an extra $2.50 for each hundred bales, and members residing outside those two countries $1.25. Other new regulations of minor character are provided. Hides and Wool.

Potato Slips I have my plants pulled fresh every morning for that day's shipment, and each and every bundle of plants is carefully "muddled" and will keep for a week or ten days out of the ground. During 1915 I shipped Sweet Potato Slips more than 900 miles, down on the "Guif Ceast of Texas," reaching my customers in good shape after being out five days. I have many customers who make up orders of 5,000 and 10,000 lots or more among their neighbors, thereby getting the advantage of the "Quantity Price." When their order is received, giving each name and quantity ordered, we pack them, marking each lot with the Owner's Name, and ship all together, and the party ordering the lot has nothing to do except deliver each order to the owner as marked.
